Warranty Conditions

1. The Product Warranty applies only to the Original Purchaser (hereunder referred to as "Purchaser"). The rights thus arose are not transferrable or assignable to any third party. SAS makes no additional warranty in relation to the Product other than as contained in these Terms & Conditions.
2. All claims of any nature must be accompanied by particulars of the claim and by the relevant invoice and delivery details.
3. If the Purchaser fails to inspect the goods within 7 days after delivery, SAS at its sole discretion can reject any claim arising as null and void.
4. In making a claim, the Purchaser must hold on SAS instructions, the Products claimed to be defective for a reasonable period. SAS reserves the right to inspection on-site, or having the Products claimed to be defective returned, or whichever way SAS deems necessary to ascertain the claim or qualification of the claim. Products claimed to be defective must not be returned except with the consent of SAS. Transportation costs of returned Product, when applicable, are to be borne by the party returning the Product claimed to be defective.
5. SAS provides warranty to the Purchaser against material and workmanship defects on the Product colour and panel for the period covered below, on the condition of normal, reasonable usage and correct applications, and to the extent that the product properties are unaffected by Purchaser's further conversion, addition, subtraction, or processing of the Product. The warranty does not cover Purchaser's use or work, on or of the Product, and the effects of it. Any unauthorised use or work,
